Thoughts for Today's Readings

To the Point: Jesus demonstrates his sinlessness in this gospel as he responds to the devil's temptations with strength and confidence, rebuffing his advances without missing a beat. These temptations are perhaps relatable; all of them encourage Jesus to put something—food, safety, power—ahead of his relationship with God. The middle temptation is particularly chilling, as we hear the devil himself quote Scripture to support a twisted agenda that is not of God. This one can be confusing; it seems that the devil is asking Jesus to trust in God, which is surely a good thing. But trusting God does not mean treating God like a vending machine that will dispense favors at our command; in fact, telling God what he ought to do for us stands in direct opposition to true trust in his providence. Fortunately, Jesus knows better than the devil's most clever tricks; his relationship with God is built on a loving trust that will carry him all the way to the cross.

To Experience: The temptations the devil throws at Jesus are versions of those we encounter all the time. Food and power and security are constantly present in our lives; they are not bad in and of themselves, but when we allow them to take the place in our hearts that ought to belong only to God, they keep us from living the fullness of life that comes only from union with God.

1. Which of Jesus' temptations do you relate to most? How could you find inspiration for dealing with this struggle in Jesus' response?
2. What does trust in God look like in your life? Where do you struggle to trust?
3. The psalm reveals that Lent is a joyful season even amidst the sorrow we bear for our sins. How can you live the joy of this season, celebrating God's ever-constant mercy?

Year of Mary
October 1, 2022 to December 8, 2023

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

We prepare for the celebration of the Lord's Resurrection with the forty day fast of Lent. Nearly all the ancient Churches, along with many Protestant communities, keep a Lenten fast of forty days. This practice that is shared by nearly all ancient Christians most likely originates with the Apostles themselves. So even though Lent is not explicitly mentioned in the New Testament, we can be confident that a forty day fast in preparation for Easter goes back to the very beginning of Christianity. But why forty days?

In the Old Testament, forty is a number associated with periods of purification and redemption. In the book of Genesis, when God sees the wickedness of humankind, he sends a flood to purify the world (see the story of Noah's flood in Genesis 6:5-8:19). It rains for FORTY days; the world floods and is washed clean.

After the Lord God rescued His people from slavery in Egypt, they wandered in the desert for FORTY years. During that time, the book of Numbers recalls how the people were tempted to return to Egypt because they desired to eat the cucumbers, melons, and onions that grew there (see Numbers 11:4-6). They also grumbled against the Lord and He sent serpents to chastise them (see Numbers 21:4-9). Most grievously, they turned away from the worship of the true God to worship a golden calf (see Exodus 32:1-24). The Israelites were called out of slavery, but they needed FORTY years of trials to be purified before they could enter the Promised Land.

In the book of Jonah, God turns away from wrath that He was going to visit upon the city of Nineveh because they fasted for FORTY days (see Jonah 3).

Before beginning His public ministry, Jesus fulfills the Old Testament model by enduring FORTY days of temptation in the desert. Noah, the Israelites, and the Ninevites all fell short, Jesus succeeded. Noah fell into sin soon after the flood subsided. The Israelites continually doubted and grumbled against the Lord God, even as God blessed them with manna from heaven and water from the rock! The Ninevites would later go on to conquer and oppress God's people. Yet, when Jesus was tempted in the desert, He was not conquered. Jesus was victorious!

We begin our annual FORTY day period of penance and purification in preparation for Easter. Like the world in the time of Noah, we needed to be washed clean. Not by waters that will flood the earth, but by the blood and water that flows from the side of Christ Crucified. Like the Israelites, we have been called to be part of God's Holy People, but also like them we often refuse to go where the Lord leads us. We need the FORTY days of Lent. Yet, unlike the world in the time of Noah, and unlike the Israelites in the desert, we are not left to our own devices as we enter the desert of Lent. Like Christ, we are led by the Spirit.

Our need for God's mercy is great, so our Lenten sacrifices and penances should be significant. Yet, our confidence should be great, since the Spirit of God has been poured out upon us through the waters of baptism and the anointing of confirmation. The Spirit leads us.

*Blessed and Joyful Lent,
 Father Bill*

On Fire for the Lord

Many of us wonder where our faith journey may take us. For Julianne Stanz her faith journey took her from a little mountain village in Ireland to northeastern Wisconsin. Her role as Director of Parish Life and Evangelization of the Diocese allows her to share our Catholic faith with adults of all ages through programs like Girlfriends in God, Catholic Campus Ministries, and Encounter for Young Adults.

"This work is tremendously important to me because it has impacted my own life on such a personal level," Julianne says. "I've seen the effects when people are energized in their faith. They are really on fire for Christ and His teachings."

Julianne Stanz speaks to about 100 women at the 2019 'Setting a Place for Jesus' Advent evening held at the St. Gregory Parish Center.

Julianne's work has impacted more than ten thousand people, and without the support of the Bishop's Appeal, Julianne would be unable to bring Christ's message to them.

To make a gift to the Bishop's Appeal contact your parish, visit the Bishop's Appeal website at www.catholicfoundationgb.org/give or call Tammy toll-free at 877-500-3580 ext. 8123.

Our catechists build a faith foundation and share the love of God with the youth of our parishes and communities and their parents. They are positively impacting students through the Religious Education and Vacation Bible School programs. On-going catechist training is provided with the support of the Bishop's Appeal.
