Thoughts for Today's Readings

To the Point: At the beginning of Mark's Gospel, John the Baptist simply appears. He suddenly and out of nowhere is there in the desert proclaiming repentance and preparing the way for Jesus' coming. His childhood is completely invisible, but we who have also read Luke know what it took to get him here. We know the story of Elizabeth's unlikely pregnancy; we know her baby leapt in her womb, recognizing and revealing Christ's presence before he was even born. God does not suddenly start working through John; God gave him a special mission and a special connection to Christ from the moment of his conception. We do not know much about John's childhood, but we know he was raised by parents who were holy and faithful and also geriatric, likely unable to keep up with their boy, full as he was of the Spirit. Their labor, all that went into raising him, all they taught him, is overlooked here. Mark has him appear with nice dramatic effect. But John doesn't really appear out of nowhere.

To Experience: Mark's Gospel does not give us John's background, and neither does it tell us much about those affected by his ministry. It would be nice to know some individual stories, how the real people who made up his audience were changed by him. In ministry we very often don't get to know these stories. We are rarely thanked. We scatter seeds in hopes something will take root. This reminds us that, like John, we are not the primary workers here; God is. We clear ways and create conditions in which God can work, but God is the real agent and actor here.

1. Who in your life provides invisible work that makes your possible? Whose work do you support in quiet, unacknowledged ways?
2. Do you proclaim God mostly in whispers or in shouts? Do you feel called to speak of God in intimate settings or in public ones? Do you work best through personal relationships or in large-group settings?
3. What makes it hard for you to hear God's voice? How could you make room for greater silence in your life?

"May Christ dwell in your hearts through Faith."
Ephesians 3:17

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

One of my favorite places to pray is the Loretto chapel. It's peaceful. If today was not a Sunday, it would be the liturgical Memorial of Our Lady of Loretto. Fr. Oswald brought the statue of Our Lady of Loretto with him when he emigrated from Germany. Later, he had a chapel built to house this statue.

Loretto is a town in Italy. In the center of that town is a large church that contains the house where Jesus lived with Mary and Joseph in Nazareth. The holy house of Jesus, Mary and Joseph was in danger of being destroyed by Islamic armies when they re-took the Holy Land, so it was transported to Italy for its preservation in 1294. It has been venerated as the Holy House ever since.

The legendary story is that angels picked up the house and carried it first to Greece and later to Italy. This miracle is depicted in the artwork in the church in Loretto. In addition to this miraculous story is historical documentation that a merchant family by the name of DE ANGELI lent the use of one of their ships and paid for the house to be moved to Italy.

In either case, whether by miracle or by an act of generosity of the De Angeli family, archeologists have studied the house in Loretto. They have found that it is made of stone that comes from the area around Nazareth, and that it is constructed in the style and with the techniques that were common in Galilee in the time of Jesus, Mary and Joseph. In addition, the outline of the house matches the remains of a foundation in Nazareth that has been venerated as the location of the house of the Holy Family since ancient times.

What's more important than the authenticity of the Holy House, is that it reminds us that Jesus chose to make a home with us here on earth. As we recite in the Profession of Faith each Sunday, Jesus is "God from God, light from light, true God from true God..." yet, "was Incarnate by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary and became man."

In Jesus, the Lord God makes His home with us. He is close to us.

This calls for a response on our part. Just as Mary and Joseph prepared a home for Jesus, we are called to prepare a home for Jesus. He no longer needs a crib or a roof over his head, but rather he makes his home in the hearts of those who are prepared to receive him. We welcome him by meditating upon His Word in Sacred Scripture, especially the Gospels. We welcome him when we receive the sacraments, especially the Eucharist in a worthy and reverent manner. We welcome him in our prayer, when he comes to dwell in the tabernacle of our hearts.

In the Gospel of John, Jesus shares this promise: "Dwell in me, and I will dwell in you" (John 15:4). Christ does come to make his home in us by the power of His Word, His presence in the Sacraments, and the fulfillment of His promise in our Prayers.

Blessings,
Father Bill

Rorate Candlelight Mass

Saturday, December 16

7:00am at St. Gregory

What is a Rorate Mass? It is a traditional Advent devotion where the 'Mass of the Blessed Virgin Mary for Advent' is offered just before dawn. The interplay of light and darkness speak to the meaning of Advent and the coming of the Light of the world.

"O come let us adore Him!"

Like the shepherds who came to adore Christ after the angels announced His birth (see Luke 2:8-20), this Advent we are invited to adore Him.

We find Him not in a manger, but in the Eucharist.

This Advent, Eucharistic Adoration will be offered for extended periods for quiet prayer and reflection. The Sacrament of Reconciliation will also be available during this time.

Mon., Dec. 18 4:00 to 7:30pm
Holy Trinity Church

Wed., Dec. 20 4:00 to 7:30pm

Plan to arrive early for Christmas Masses!

The choirs will be singing hymns and carols prior to the start of Masses.
Arrive early, enjoy the music, and prepare your heart for the celebration of Christ's birth!

The Story of Our Lady of Guadalupe—Feast Day December 12

The feast in honor of Our Lady of Guadalupe goes back to the 16th century. Chronicles of that period tell us the story.

A poor Indian named Cuauhtlatohuac was baptized and given the name Juan Diego. He was a 57-year-old widower, and lived in a small village near Mexico City. On Saturday morning December 9, 1531, he was on his way to a nearby barrio to attend Mass in honor of Our Lady.

Juan was walking by a hill called Tepeyac when he heard beautiful music like the warbling of birds. A radiant cloud appeared, and within it stood an Indian maiden dressed like an Aztec princess. The lady spoke to him in his own language and sent him to the bishop of Mexico, a Franciscan named Juan de Zumarraga. The bishop was to build a chapel in the place where the lady appeared.

Eventually the bishop told Juan to have the lady give him a sign. About this same time Juan's uncle became seriously ill. This led poor Juan to try to avoid the lady. Nevertheless the lady found Juan, assured him that his uncle would recover, and provided roses for Juan to carry to the bishop in his cape or tilma.

On December 12, when Juan Diego opened his tilma in the bishop's presence, the roses fell to the ground, and the bishop sank to his knees. On the tilma where the roses had been appeared an image of Mary exactly as she had appeared at the hill of Tepeyac.

Reflection

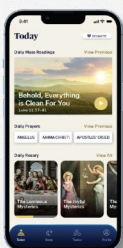

Mary's appearance to Juan Diego as one of his people is a powerful reminder that Mary—and the God who sent her—accept all peoples. In the context of the sometimes rude and cruel treatment of the Indians by the Spaniards, the apparition was a rebuke to the Spaniards and an event of vast significance for the indigenous population. While a number of them had converted before this incident, they now came in droves. According to a contemporary chronicler, nine million Indians became Catholic in a very short time. In these days when we hear so much about God's preferential option for the poor, Our Lady of Guadalupe cries out to us that God's love for and identification with the poor is an age-old truth that stems from the Gospel itself.
