Thoughts for Today's Readings

To the Point: This gospel comes in the middle of Ordinary Time, but it is strongly reminiscent of the Advent season. The enjoinders to stay vigilant and prepared echo the readings we will hear in December. It is timely in a sense, as this long stretch of Ordinary Time is one where we might be tempted to passivity. The lack of special seasonal themes, though, is not an invitation to disconnection. Ordinary Time is meant to be a time of growth, and this growth requires our engagement and attention. Perhaps this is a good time to check on our hearts, to recommit to the alertness of Advent, the gratitude of Christmas, the repentance of Lent, and the joy of Easter. These attitudes are not meant to be limited to these seasons but to infuse the whole year and our entire journey with Christ.

To Experience: Ordinary Time does not give us the specific traditional practices that other seasons offer. We are, rather, granted freedom to discern which prayers, devotions, and works of mercy will best facilitate our growth with God. This freedom is wonderful, but it can also feel paralyzing. Without clear direction, many of us falter and do not know how to celebrate the season. Consider how you might more explicitly celebrate this Ordinary Time. What prayers or good works could you take on, or even try on, for a time?

1. How is your faith doing in the middle of this long stretch of Ordinary Time? How could you recommit to the watchful vigilance that Jesus advises in this gospel?
2. How does God ask you to trust in times when God's presence is unclear or God's action is unknown?

Led by a Shepherd Who Never abandons His Flock

In today's Gospel, Jesus speaks words that are deeply reassuring: "Do not be afraid any longer, little flock, for your Father is pleased to give you the Kingdom." (Luke 12:32)

This gentle and loving message is not just for the disciples of the past – it is for each of us today. We often live with fears: fear of the future, fear of illness, fear of failure, fear of being alone. But Jesus reminds us that we are under the care of a Good Shepherd though we are a little flock – small. And this Shepherd, our Father, is pleased to give us His kingdom.

The kingdom is not just a place we hope for after death. It is also a life of grace, peace, forgiveness, and divine presence that begins now. Jesus invites us to live in trust and to detach from anxiety, knowing that God is actively working for our good.

One inspiring example of someone who lived these words is St. Padre Pio of Pietrelcina. Born in Italy in 1887, he became a Capuchin friar and was known for his deep spirituality, his gift of healing, and the mystical wounds of Christ – the stigmata – that he bore for fifty years. Padre Pio faced incredible suffering all through his life: physical pain, spiritual battles, public misunderstanding, and even restrictions from Church authorities.

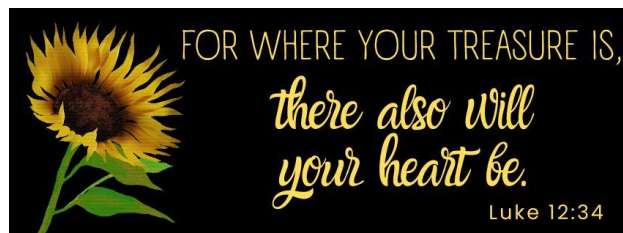

But through it all, he never gave in to fear. His famous words – "Pray, hope, and don't worry. Worry is useless. God is merciful."

Padre Pio placed his entire life in God's hands, trusting completely in the Father's will. He knew that the Kingdom was not something he had to earn with fear or anxiety – it was something to be received with faith, lived with love, and shared through sacrifice. He spent countless hours in the confessional, guiding people back to God. His life shows us that when we focus on God's promises rather than our problems, we live with peace and purpose.

As a community of believers, we are also a little flock. We may be small in number or resources, but we are rich in faith, and in the Father's love. Let us encourage one another to live without fear, knowing that we belong to a God who delights in giving us His Kingdom.

Let us stay faithful in prayer, generous in service, and hopeful in heart. Because we are not forgotten – we are chosen, loved, and led by the Shepherd who never abandons His flock.

God's Blessings!
Father Josuva

The Raising Vocations Collection is underway, and we are already seeing your gifts at work in this campaign. Today we have 24 seminarians in formation! We are so close to reaching our Diocesan goal of 30 seminarians.

To reach this goal, we invite you to fill out your Called by Name cards you received in your Raising Vocations mailing. Please share the name of a young person whom you believe would make an excellent priest or religious sister. This young person will receive a letter from Bishop Ricken, as well as resources to help them on their vocation journey. Thank you for your help and prayers!

As you pray for an increase in vocations, please also consider making a gift to the Raising Vocations Collection. Because of your gift, the Collection supports college campus ministry, youth ministry, conferences, and more to help young people discover Jesus and hear God's call. You can help these young people say "yes" and increase vocations! We need you!

Please return the pledge card through the mail. Whatever you are able to give is greatly appreciated.

Missionary Cooperation Appeal

MCP is promoted through the Catholic Foundation World Mission office every summer, and is conducted in dioceses across the United States. These collections are a way to centralize the efforts of missionary organizations around the world who wish to appeal to Catholics in the U.S.

Each year, from over 300 applications, Bishop Ricken invites 38 groups to participate. This Appeal allows mission groups to make a personal appeal for prayers and financial support from Catholics in our diocese.

In our Diocese, receipts from all the 156 parishes are pooled and divided equally among these selected mission groups. We use this fair-share system to enable our missionary speakers to go to less populated parishes in our Diocese without fear of receiving less income.

Missionaries share the needs and their faith experiences of the people they serve. Missionaries enrich us in our understanding of the problems and challenges of the global church. Our faith is deepened and broadened as we learn from them.

Please be generous with your prayers and contribute to the second collection to help support the work of Divine Word Missionaries. To meet some of the people Divine Word Missionaries help, please read the stories at <https://missionimpact.svdmissions.org/mission-update>.
